YOUTH ORCHESTRA OF GREATER COLUMBUS ANNOUNCES THE WHITEWATER ORCHESTRA FESTIVAL!

August 17, 2017, Columbus, Georgia—The Youth Orchestra of Greater Columbus (YOGC) is pleased to announce the Whitewater Orchestra Festival on November 2, 2017. The Youth Orchestra of Columbus' Whitewater Orchestra Festival provides Muscogee County public middle and high school orchestras an opportunity to perform for well-qualified adjudicators in a beautiful hall and receive short clinics from the Youth Orchestra's Maestro Jim Palmer. The orchestra directors will receive a recording of their performance, written feedback from three highly qualified educators, a video of their conducting and an opportunity to perform in Columbus State University Schwob School of Music's Legacy Hall. The judges and clinicians include: Dr. Richard Bell, Sheldon Fisher, Jim Palmer, and Dr. Marilyn Seelman. To register or for more information contact Stephanie Payne at 706.256.3614 or by email at spayne@yogc.org.

"This festival represents an enormous opportunity for YOGC and the public orchestra teachers to collaborate. They work incredibly hard each and every day with students from all different backgrounds. We bring over 100 of them together every week during the school year to work on separate music for separate concerts, but this is a place where we can all come together for a common goal and the betterment of all. Everyone involved is excited and ready to work to make sure we give the young musicians in Muscogee County a fantastic experience." – Stephanie Payne, YOGC Executive Director
